

Kenworth Offers $1,000 Rebate To ANCAI Members in Quebec on 2013 Qualifying Vocational Truck Purchases

KIRKLAND, Wash. – Kenworth Truck Company is offering a 2013 rebate program for members of the L'Association Nationale des Camionneurs Artisans (ANCAI) in Quebec.

The program offers a $1,000 ($US) rebate to ANCAI members on qualifying purchases of new Kenworth vocational trucks used in the transportation of gravel, asphalt, sand, rock and snow. Eligible Kenworth trucks under the program include the Kenworth T800 and W900. Buyers must show their ANCAI membership card to their Kenworth dealer at time of purchase in 2013. ANCAI members are small trucking companies and independent truck drivers.

“We appreciate the loyalty of our vocational customers in Quebec to The World’s Best® trucks, including the Kenworth T800 and Kenworth W900 used extensively in vocational applications,” said Alan Fennimore, Kenworth vocational marketing manager. “We hope ANCAI members will take advantage of this special rebate program in 2013 by considering the T800 and W900 for their next truck purchase.”

Limit for a single customer is three qualifying Kenworth trucks per year. Truck chassis must meet a list of $165,000 ($US) or more. Other limitations apply on the Kenworth rebate program. See your Kenworth dealer for further details.

Formed in 1966, ANCAI is as an advocacy group for small trucking companies and independent truck drivers and has more than nearly 5,000 members. Members specialize in the transportation of gravel, asphalt, sand, rock and snow. Only truck owners and small trucking companies that are part of a non-profit brokerage agency authorized by the Commission des Transports du Québec may become ANCAI members. For more information visit ANCAI’s website at www.ancai.com.
